Subject: Changes at PLSB

Hello all,

I am writing to inform you that I have accepted a new position as the director of the Coquitlam Public Library starting in early September.

While I am very pleased to be joining the talented library team at Coquitlam, I will be very sad to leave the province-wide work that we have all participated in over the past three years. The Strategic Plan for Libraries has fulfilled a long time dream for me and working with the staff at PLSB and the various libraries around BC has been a definite privilege. However when an opportunity comes along, to move back to the field, into a position such as the Coquitlam director I was also very pleased to accept.

My last day at PLSB will be August, 25 and my first day at CPL will be September, 5. The Ministry has plans to fill my position as soon as is reasonably possible. The strategic plan continues to be a priority for the ministry and indeed government writ large. I am confident that the next person will find the collaborative spirit of our community as inspiring as I did. I hope to see many of you in my present or future capacity in the next while, the last three years have certainly been a high point for me...
